

Developing a leading open-access integrated biologics discovery, development and manufacturing platform to expedite global development

Weichang Zhou, Biologics Service, WuXi AppTec Co Ltd, Shanghai, China

Traditionally integrated discovery, development and manufacturing platforms are established in large pharmaceutical and biotechnology companies while CROs typically support growth of industry in small focused segments such as chemistry or toxicology services initially offered by WuXi AppTec. These technology platforms from large companies are not open-access, and therefore virtual companies and companies
