

Search for the Next Process Safety Progress Journal Editor

The Process Safety Progress (PSP) journal is a premier journal in process safety and related fields. PSP, an official journal of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AIChE), is published by John Wiley & Sons. PSP is focused on process safety and loss prevention topics of interest to engineering professionals. With an editorial team of one editor-in-chief and one associate editor, this peer-reviewed journal includes process safety-related articles covering:

2) How you would take advantage of modern media platforms and other new information